ABOUT ME

Hi, I'm Riti Karki—a people person at heart, deeply curious about what drives others and always eager to listen. I find joy in meaningful conversations, quiet coffee moments, and the little wins in everyday life. I believe in kindness, patience, and showing up with authenticity—whether it's at work or with loved ones.

I love exploring new places, getting lost in a good book, and writing down thoughts that make me feel something. In my free time, you'll often find me planning the next adventure, journaling by the window, or simply enjoying music that matches my mood.

I'm someone who values growth, connection, and making life a little lighter for the people around me.
