About Me

Hey, I'm Sambirdi Bam, a curious and dedicated software developer who loves building things that make life easier, smarter, and a little more fun. I'm passionate about creating impactful software—whether it's a sleek front-end interface or powerful backend logic. I thrive on solving problems, learning new tools, and constantly pushing myself to grow in this ever-evolving tech space.

For me, coding is more than just syntax—it's storytelling through technology.
